Indiana Contractor/Subcontractor

TO: All Interested Parties

The Wage and Hour Division of the U.S. Department of Labor is responsible for conducting wage surveys to establish the wage rates applicable to construction projects that fall within the jurisdiction of the Davis-Bacon and Related Acts. The Davis-Bacon and Related Acts require payment of locally prevailing wage rates and fringe benefits to employees of contractors and subcontractors performing work on federally financed or assisted construction projects.

A residential wage survey has been initiated for the state of Indiana. The Indiana residential construction survey will solicit information on wages and fringe benefits paid on projects that were active and ongoing between 08/01/2017 and 07/31/2018.

Please be advised that prevailing wage survey briefings will be held to discuss the procedures of the Davis-Bacon wage survey process for both Unions/Union Contractors and Associations and Open Shop Contractors and Associations at the following locations:
